

KRIS SAUD

Richard Ivar Rydstrom

Richard Ivar Rydstrom is known as Orange County's private legal weapon.

With more than 20 years of legal experience, he is rated by Avvo as superb, 10 out of 10. Whether representing a plaintiff or defendant, a homeowner or a $5 billion financial institution, Rydstrom has sued, defended or resolved some of the most difficult cases and protected the seemingly unprotectable.

He has extricated clients from potential million-dollar judgments and aided clients facing judgments with little-known legal asset protections. Before opening his current practice,

Asset, Estate, Business & Litigation Protections

Rydstrom served as a Beverly Hills business manager to hundreds of celebrities, handling their business, tax and related asset-protection matters.

When the 110th Congress wanted a neutral analysis of the potential mortgage finance meltdown and some recommended solutions, Rydstrom was chosen to give a statement to the House Ways & Means Committee. When the U.S. Treasury was establishing policy directives for President Obama's home loan modification program, Rydstrom served on the related working groups. And multi-billionaire Wilbur Ross selected him to speak about critical solutions in the mortgage finance market.

He also helped a multi-billion-dollar California banking institution avoid the negative impacts of new laws and fashioned a solution for continued prosperity.

Rydstrom started his career 30 years ago as a Wall Street accountant for the banking and steel industry, giving him unique insight into today's financial problems. His experience has landed him at the pinnacles of national government in dealing with financial crises.

What sums up this legal expert? Rydstrom has a legal-accounting-tax multi-disciplinary mind who has the ability to make the complex, simple.

Said Rydstrom: "I'm hired in matters where people have lawyers already and the case is going the wrong way, and they need someone to come in and change the tide." ■
